Tested on IE 6-11, Chrome 1-31, Firefox 1.5-27.0, Safari 3-7, Opera 10.6-18.0, iOS 5-7, Android 2.3-4.4 and WP8. The plugin has many options, supports callbacks and special lazy events, which allow you to have different loading effects (e.g. fade and spinner effects). According to the JSON data shared in the question, the statement should be: `esta.pictureurl = esta.currentUser.version.fields.field[0].fieldvalue.path`; Also in the JSON data, this `currentUser.version.fields.field[0].fieldvalue` is a string in opposition to the object, which could result in an error again when trying to read the `value.path` field. In my angular application, I have an error in the browser debugging: `Error error: no capture (promised): TypeError: Cannot read the properties of undefined fields (Read " ")` Why can't I access the `fields` property on this line? Lazy Load XT is a mobile-oriented, fast and extensible jQuery add-on for lazy loading of images, videos and other media with built-in jQueryMobile Framework support. Answered By - Siddhant
